

Richard G. Braybrooke

Lominger International Associate
Richard Braybrooke has an independent consulting practice and for the last ten years has been a senior consultant with DBM, a global group specializing in career management programs for leading international companies.

Richard has 30 years of business experience in manufacturing, retail, and financial services organizations. Prior to joining DBM he was director of HR for Noble Lowndes and Partners, an international pension and employee benefits firm, and worked as an executive search consultant in Central London.

He consults with individuals and organizations in the areas of competency- based leadership, coaching, selection, interviewing, and change management.

His clients include U.S. multinationals and a range of UK-based companies in manufacturing, financial services, high tech, and the public sector. Richard works with individuals and groups to establish their ideal work preferences, current skills and motivation, and then uses a combination of counseling, training and coaching skills to identify a workable plan for career success.

With experience in training and development, Richard has designed and delivered programs in selection, networking, change management, succession planning, and leadership development.

He is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development in the UK and chairs the branch committee for the West of England.

He has been an Associate of Lominger International since 1997 and is a consultant and certifier for The LEADERSHIP ARCHITECTO Suite of products.

Richard holds a bachelor's degree in business studies and is a qualified practitioner in psychometric assessment.
